FRENCH LINE SEIZED BY ITALIAN TROOPS

Complete Annexation of Ethiopia Planned by Fascist Forces

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, May 7. (AP)—Unconfirmed reports today said a serious dispute had broken out between Italy and the French company controlling the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad over the transportation of troops and war material.

ROME, May 7. (AP)—Total annexation of Ethiopia, the best informed sources said today, will be decreed Saturday night by Italy's Grand Council of Fascism and by her cabinet ministers.

It is expected that Italy will present to the League of Nations council, meeting at Geneva Monday, an accomplished fact which Italian believe will permit of no league discussion.

This apparently authoritative prediction came upon the heels of reports by the Stefani (Italian) News agency that Italian troops in Ethiopia had seized complete control of the French-owned Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad, all the way to the French-Somali border.

Take Over Traffic
By order of their military commander, troops took over all traffic on the narrow-gauge line and restored normal service, Stefani reported.

The railroad is Ethiopia's only modern carrier and the only modern egress from Addis Ababa to the sea.

Whether the seizure was considered permanent was not immediately known. Only today the French government let it be known it would refuse at this time to relinquish rights to the line.

Any transfer to Italian operators would necessitate a free convention, negotiated by the French—company which owns the line, Paris officials stated.

Capture of Jijiga
Simultaneously, Italy's armies all but completed the subjugation of Southern Ethiopia with the capture of the important town of Jijiga, and pressed into service Haile Selassie's own imperial police to "mop up" riot-torn Addis Ababa.

General Rodolfo Graziani, hard-bitten veteran of colonial wars, landed at Jijiga in an airplane after his motorized troops had seized the town without resistance. Now only Harar, "garden city" of Ethiopia, remains to be seized by the Fascists. It lies a few kilometers northwest of Jijiga and its fall was considered only a matter of days.

Giant Nazi Zep Speeding Across Atlantic to U.S.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

ABOARD THE ZEPPELIN HINDENBURG, En Route to America, May 7.—The giant German airship Hindenburg, averaging 75 miles an hour, struck out across the North Atlantic today on its first flight to America.

Many of the passengers remained awake all night to see the airship fly over the mouth of the Rhine and later glimpse the Isle of Wight, in the English channel off the southern coast of England, just as the sun rose.

Turning slightly to the south after passing the Sicily islands at an altitude of 2500 feet, the Hindenburg afforded its passengers the spectacle of a carpet of white clouds beneath the ship like a vast expanse of glaciers.

107 Persons on Board
Dr. Hugo Eckener, in command, said his favorite turn on the bridge was between midnight and 4 a. m.

The Zeppelin, bearing 107 persons, 3300 pounds of freight and 20 sacks of mail, headed on a course over the English channel southwest to the Azores and then west to Lakehurst, N. J.

So favorable were conditions for this pioneer flight of the Hindenburg, opening a projected series of regular voyages, that a record trip might be made. The Zeppelin was expected originally to reach Lakehurst Saturday afternoon.

The luxurious 813-foot ship proceeded swiftly, smoothly, almost noiselessly on its journey after the delayed departure from Friedrichshafen, last night.

Dr. Eckener, commanding his third Zeppelin on a venture across the Atlantic to North America, held up the start for more than an hour to await the evening cool and the arrival of a plane carrying mail from Frankfurt.

The veteran commander said his desire to obtain the latest reports on North Atlantic weather conditions was another reason for the delay in the departure.

Thousands Cheer
Rising lightly and easily from its base while thousands of residents of Friedrichshafen cheered, the Hindenburg skirted Germany's western border during the night, cruised up the Rhine and crossed the Netherlands on the route to the ocean.

The great ship was bathed in moonlight on the first leg of the journey out of Germany. A searchlight played on the scenes below, showing swift progress and displaying an enchanting variety of scenery over the southwest state of Wurttemberg.

Before his North American flights in the Hindenburg and the Graf, Dr. Eckener made his first Zeppelin flight over the Atlantic in 1924 when he took the LZ 128 (later the Los Angeles) from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst.

The new airship has made numerous trial flights over Germany and one crossing to South America, during which engine trouble developed on the return from Rio de Janeiro.

Famed Passengers
The four Diesel motors, giving the Hindenburg an average speed of 80 to 90 miles an hour and a cruising range of about 8000 miles were removed, sent to the factory and inspected thoroughly before the start of the present flight.

Among the passengers are Sir Hubert Wilkins, the explorer, and Lady Wilkins; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Leeds of New York; Commander Murray Simon, a British navy navigator, and a party of 10 American and European newspaper men and women.

The 20 sacks of mail aboard weigh more than 2000 pounds. In addition to the freight, there are more than two tons of provisions, 60 tons of oil and a barrel of beer.

COL. TURNER EYES WORLD AIR SPEED RECORD

Famed Flyer May Try to Break Howard Hughes Mark Here Saturday

Col. Roscoe Turner was all pepped up today about cracking the world's airplane speed record made here last summer by Howard Hughes. Col. Turner is going to bring his powerful new racing bullet here, and once he gets the ship near the speed course—

But he hasn't made up his mind yet.

The famous speed demon was in Santa Ana today as a guest of the Lions club at the Green Cat cafe. Tomorrow he will be flying his 24-passenger Boeing transport plane over Eddie Martin's airport.

On his first trip starting at 2 p. m. he will have city and county officials as his guests.

He has asked Mayor Fred Rowland to invite his daughter, Barbara Rowland, to be his official stewardess and hostess during his visit here.

May Try Saturday
Yesterday at 10 a. m. Col. Turner decided to make an assault on the record of one hour and eight minutes between Los Angeles and San Francisco. Howard Hughes made that record with a 72-mile an hour tail wind.

Col. Turner, with his 1000 horsepower racer, made the trip in one minute over that time, bucking a 90-mile wind, his manager said today.

If he decides to go after the record set by Hughes here last summer, he will make his attempt Saturday afternoon, it is believed. Hughes broke the former world's record of 314 miles per hour when he flew his silver racer over the mile long course on the Irvine ranch near here last September.

The fastest time made on his tests was 353 miles an hour.

On his first attempt to shatter the record, Hughes made a forced landing in a best field when his motor choked out on him.

Has Stronger Engine
His plane has a 750 horsepower motor while the Turner ship has a 1000 horsepower engine.

When Col. Turner makes his first trip over Santa Ana in his Boeing transport plane tomorrow afternoon he will have as his passengers Mayor Fred Rowland, Police Chief Floyd W. Howard, Chairman John Mitchell of the board of supervisors, Capt. Henry Meehan of the highway patrol, Councilmen William Penn, Ernest Layton, Plummer Bruns and Joseph P. Smith, Superior W. J. Stevens, Supervisor LeRoy Lyon, Supervisor N. E. West, Supervisor Willard Smith, Sheriff Logan Jackson, Howard I. Wood, chamberlain of commerce secretary, Rodney Bacon, chairman of the chamber's aviation committee, Eddie Martin of the Martin airport, City Attorney L. V. Blodgett, District Attorney W. F. Menton, Dale Decker, local representative of the American Aeronautic association, and newspaper and radio representatives.

Hughes to Seek New Air Record
CHICAGO, May 7. (AP)—Howard Hughes' quest for the new air record was turned to the Chicago-New York route.

The Hollywood motion picture producer arranged with the National Aeronautic association to take off from the Chicago municipal airport Friday in an attempt to reach the Newark airport in three and a half hours.

Hughes planned to use the low-winged monoplane he piloted from Burbank, Calif., to New York in 9 hours and 25 minutes last Jan. 4 and from Miami to New York in 4 hours and 20 minutes recently. Both hops established new records.

Missing School Couple Found
FORT COLLINS, Colo., May 7. (AP)—Irene Wich, 14, and Wayne Miller, Timnath school pupils who were missing in the mountains west of Fort Collins, were found today.

They had spent the night under an improvised shelter of evergreen boughs and had suffered no ill effects from the night in the cold.

Sally Rand Gets Primary Vote
STOCKTON, May 7. (AP)—A voter went to a lot of trouble in voting for 44 individuals on the Republican ticket in the presidential primary.

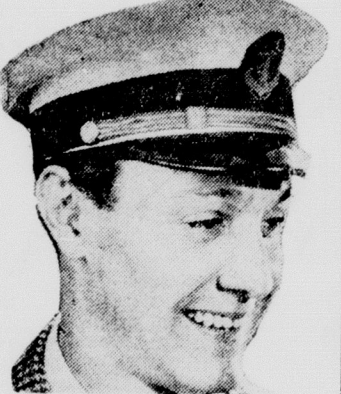

Among those who received votes were Barney Google, Amos and Andy, Stepin Fetchit, Sally Rand, One-Eyed Connolly and Old Crow.

Oppenheim has taken his hero, Haymer Wildburn, a two-fisted young American millionaire, and has put him through a series of thrilling adventures in which he is beset on all sides with deadly peril. He risks everything for the girl he loves, in a battle against desperate odds. The action takes place in Mediterranean waters where Wildburn has gone on his yacht.

Pitted against the hero is Merimill, a crafty plotter who is a master of finance. There is absolutely nothing Merimill will not do to gain his ends. Working with him, obeying his orders, is Chicotin, whose devilish brain invents the most terrifying tools of death known to modern science.

Against this background of mystery, plotting and crime you will see Lucienne, the lovable, beautiful girl for whom Wildburn is willing to sacrifice everything. She went for a swim to escape a horde of suitors and became involved in the net of political intrigue which makes the story. Lucienne is courageous, quick witted. You will suffer with her, like her and hope the best for her.

But there is a mysterious visitor—a woman—who comes to Wildburn's yacht. Who is this woman? The mystery that surrounds her starts the pulsating adventure. Why did she come to the yacht? How was she wounded? Why were her answers so evasive?

And then—Tanya! A witching beauty that lures men to madness, that is Tanya's power. It is but a lovely mask to hide her devotion to a patriotic cause. She supplies an appealing variety in the matchless galaxy of characters who move swiftly through "Floating Peril" with superb drama, adventure and thrills.

Hoover said Mahan was taken without any shots being fired. He was unarmed.

Mahan was being removed this afternoon to Tacoma, Wash., for arraignment for the May 24, 1935, kidnapping of 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser. A $200,000 ransom was paid for the boy's release.

Hoover said the ransom money had been turning up at regular intervals in the Pacific Northwest, with the serial numbers altered. Crime technicians in the bureau's laboratory here he told newsmen were able to identify positively the altered notes.

G-MEN TRAP KARPIS PAL IN TOLEDO

Weyerhaeuser Kidnaping Suspect Captured in San Francisco

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover announced today the capture of William Mahan, called the remaining principal in the $200,000 Weyerhaeuser kidnaping.

Hoover said Mahan was taken in an automobile in a parking lot on Minna street in San Francisco this noon. He made the announcement upon returning to the capital from the arrest at Toledo, Ohio, of Harry Campbell, pal of Alvin Karpis who was wanted in connection with the Edward Bremer kidnaping and an Ohio mail robbery.

Had Ransom Money
Hoover said Mahan had $7300 on his person when federal agents apprehended him on Minna street between Sixth and Seventh avenue in San Francisco.

Some of the money was Weyerhaeuser ransom money, Hoover said, on which the serial numbers had been altered.

Hoover said Mahan admitted his identity, but did not confess to the crime.

DEATH POISON IS TESTED

L. A. Pair Facing Trial For Bride's Murder Are Separated

LOS ANGELES, May 7. (AP)—An expert drew the venom from two rattlesnakes today to aid police chemists in their analysis of the body of Mrs. Mary Bush James.

Her husband, Robert S. James, master barber, and Charles H. Hope were indicted by the county grand jury yesterday on first degree murder charges as the result of the story told by hope that James strangled his wife, exposed her to the fangs of rattlesnakes and finally drowned her in a bathtub.

Joe Houtenbrink, owner of a Lamanda Park snake farm, brought the reptiles to District Attorney Burton Pitts' office and forced them to discharge their venom. Hope said the snakes used on Mrs. James were bought from Houtenbrink.

County Coroner A. F. Wagner when he exhumed Mrs. James' body said he found a wound on her left big toe similar to a snake bite.

James and Hope are kept in separate cells because authorities feared they might harm each other.

War Funds Bill Wins House Favor

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—The house adopted a conference report on the peace-time record war department appropriation bill yesterday and sent the $572,446,844 measure to the senate for action on amendments still undecided.

The measure directs an increase in enlisted army strength to 165,000.

On a roll call vote of 207 to 84, the house approved a $20,750,000 addition to its original $100,000,000 addition to the original $100,000,000 for rivers and harbors, a figure the senate had boosted by $38,000,000.

STARVED MAN IS RESCUED

Starvation Cult Leader Held as Pupil Rescued By Officials

SEATTLE, May 7. (AP)—William Jussila, the missing "pupil" of a "starvation school," whose woman manager is under arrest on an open charge, was found today by authorities investigating the place.

Deputy County Prosecutor E. Gray Warner said the manager, Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, told him she was an instructor of a "starvation diet treatment" for the cure of ill and that persons who went to her place were merely "pupils."

The deputy said the woman denied she was engaged in the practice of medicine. She served two years in state prison after a manslaughter conviction in 1911 for the death of a woman patient, a wealthy Englishwoman, at her sanatorium.

Jussila, missing from the home Mrs. Hazzard conducts here, said he had suffered from a stomach ailment recently and went to Mrs. Hazzard after reading about her "starvation" treatment. He said he "wasn't just sure" whether the treatment had helped him.

His diet, Prosecutor Warner quoted him as saying, reduced his weight from 132 pounds to "about 97" in six weeks.

BEACH LOT WORTH $500,000

Valued at $160 Square Foot

Orange county's most valuable single piece of property has been identified.

The property is an oil lot in Huntington Beach, 25 by 125 feet in size, and was assessed by County Assessor James Sleeper at $250,760. Figuring on the basis of a 50 per cent of value assessment, the lot actually is worth more than $500,000, Mr. Sleeper said.

Taxes for the current year just paid amounted to $3661.10. The assessment was figured after the state had taken out $112.19 in gas royalties, and had taken 37,890 barrels of oil as royalty, making the actual per foot value of the property astoundingly high.

Based on an approximate per square foot estimate, the lot is worth in excess of $160 for every square foot. Figured on the basis of frontage feet, this astoundingly valuable little lot is worth $20,000 per front foot. That's a lot of money.

PRISON PROPOSAL MAY DRIVE AWAY ARMY-NAVY COLONY HERE

VETERANS TO DROP PLAN, REPORT

Capt. Harvey Discloses Action of Proposed Army-Navy Program

Definite proof that location of a state penitentiary near here will drive away the type of people which this vicinity is trying to attract was produced today by Capt. R. W. Harvey, retired, who served with the First Cavalry division.

Captain Harvey is living temporarily at the Y. M. C. A. here. He had completed arrangements for purchase of a home here for himself and Mrs. Harvey; but when he learned that location of a penitentiary here is imminent he said he cancelled all arrangements for the deal.

In addition, he said, he had induced two retired naval officers at San Diego to make their homes in this city, but when he informed them of the penitentiary menace they discarded their plans to come here. Captain Harvey had arranged to purchase his home here through the Veterans' Welfare board financing plan, but he said he had cancelled his application for the piece of property he had picked out.

Will Locate Elsewhere
If the prison is located at the proposed site near Costa Mesa, said Captain Harvey, he and his friends at San Diego will locate elsewhere.

Captain Harvey is interested in establishing a colony of retired army and navy personnel in Santa Ana, he said. He has access to names of army officers about to retire, and plans to contact them and induce them to locate in Santa Ana. If the penitentiary does not come here, "If it does come, he will locate elsewhere and carry out his plan of attracting other army families. The same program has been mapped out, he said, by his friends at San Diego, who would contact several naval officers about to retire.

Have Assured Income
Retired military men, Captain Harvey explained, have an assured income. They would not complicate the employment situation because they would not be interested in seeking positions. Furthermore, he said, they would pay cash for their purchases from Santa Ana merchants.

Captain Harvey has intimate knowledge of the condition created in a community by proximity of a prison, he said. He was last stationed at Fort Bliss, Tex., and recalls the location of a federal prison for short term convicts, near El Paso.

Homes Entered
When men were released from this prison they were given $10, but instead of spending it, he said, they often would steal cars or commit other crimes to add them in getting away. Homes were robbed and people were held up on the highways.

The first two men released, he said, stole cars. In one case a service station was held up and the two attendants were murdered.

A prison may bring in a few new families who will locate in adjoining communities, but for every new family, four or five will be driven away, Captain Harvey said.

Karpis Pal Held On $200,000 Bond

NEW ORLEANS, May 7. (AP)—Fred Hunter, associate of Alvin Karpis, public enemy No. 1 who was captured in a raid on his New Orleans apartment last Friday by federal agents, was arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Reginald Carter, Jr., on a charge of harboring Karpis and was held under bond of $200,000.

Hunter was placed in custody of Philip Alvarez, United States marshal. He waived extradition and it was understood he was to be taken to Ohio to answer to a charge of mail robbery at Garrettsville.

Hunter was arrested with a young woman, Ruth Robinson, at the Karpis apartment by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the bureau and about a score of his agents.

Ruth, a mysterious character in the case, was released without charge.

Mercury Jumps to 85 Here Today

RED FLAG OVER WASHINGTON Banner Raised by Jokesters

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—An amazed capital awoke today to find the red flag of Communism flying over the huge marble temple of the supreme court of the United States.

Apparently raised in the night by a prankster, the fluttering emblem struck consternation into the ranks of the supreme court guard, picked up assigned to protect the dignity of the nation's highest tribunal.

Frankly the guard and a big detachment of metropolitan police struggled for an hour and a half to get the flaming emblem down, but without success.

Finally a fireman mounted a lofty extension ladder. Swaying precariously, he touched the flag with a gasoline torch tied to the end of a long pole. The emblem caught fire and was destroyed. The government began a wide hunt for the prankster who had raised the banner bearing the hammer and sickle. Authorities suspected he might hail from Harvard university.

Who Was Original County Booster? That Is Puzzle For Director of Chamber

Who think these thoughts?

George Raymer, director in the Associated chambers of commerce, was puzzling today over scattered notes about Orange county's allures of 30 years ago, which he discovered in the minute book recording formation of the Orange county chamber of commerce in 1902.

The notes apparently were records of agricultural production, living costs, taxes, wages and opportunities. They ended with the words: "Great opportunities—want creamery—alfalfa meal factory—brick yard."

"Sounds like the mental wandering of a chamber of commerce secretary getting ready to produce a booster booklet," remarked Mr. Raymer, scratching what hair he has left on his head. Mr. Raymer has been in that business himself, and he ought to know.

The notes were written on stationery labeled, "City Hall, Santa Ana, Cal., 1902." It apparently was filed from the office of the board of health by the chamber of commerce secretary, who happened to be hit by an inspiration while passing through that place. The stationery bore the imprint of the board of health, with the following names: H. S. Gordon, M. D., president; V. S. Steward, E. D. Waffie, Geo. W. Minter and H. C. Head. On the other side was printed: J. J. Clark, M. D., city health officer; Ed Tedford, city clerk, and clerk board of health.

The notes began with lists of agricultural products, but didn't go very far, the entire list being summed up with the words: "Everything that grows in a garden." An enumeration of industries was followed with the words, "Don't know the amount invested."

Plenty of Celery
Then followed more farm products with their returns, including 3000 carloads of celery yielding $750,000.

"Price of land, with water $300 per acre; without water, $60 to $120 per acre. Average size of tracts, 15 acres. Two thousand dollars for a newcomer. Can secure work to keep family. Work for man and team cultivating Good work horse, $150; good cow, $40; poultry, $6 per dozen.

"Rent of cottage on car line, $12 to $15; not on car line, $8 to $12; price of such houses, substantially built, $1800."

Meat Was Cheap
Food prices were listed as follows: "Beef roast, 12c; round steak, 12c; other steaks, 17c; mutton roast, 12c; chops, 15c; fish, 7c; sugar, $5.15 per 100 pounds; ice, 25c per 100 holes; 50c per 100 retail.

"County roads, good, oiled 120 miles; churches, all denomina-

The incident provided much merriment to a crowd of early morning passersby, who gathered at the scene offering advice and philosophic comment.

But it brought nothing but dismay to the guard, who at the crack of dawn had discovered the revolutionary flag waving atop an 80-foot staff, directly in front of the building, which is on Capitol hill.

Shocked guards ran to the ornate base of the pole in a frantic attempt to get the flag down. But the halyards had been skillfully knotted and tangled so that at the end of an hour's labor the Soviet emblem still fluttered aloft in the morning breeze.

The dumbfounded police put in a telephone call for the captain of the supreme court guard, summoning him from his home.

At the base of the pole was found a copy of The Lamppost, Harvard university's humorous magazine. It contained an article entitled "Down With Capitalism."

ALLEN BLOCKS CITY'S TOURS LOCAL AAA BATTLE BY AIR GET ATTENTION

The state supreme court is the last hope of the state in its battle to establish validity of the California Agricultural Administration act.

Superior Judge James L. Allen today announced that he would sustain the Withers Brothers demurrer to the amended complaint against them filed yesterday by the district attorney. The complaint asks an injunction prohibiting them from any further shipments of fruit in violation of the "little AAA."

District Attorney Menton said that the fight undoubtedly would be taken directly to the supreme court. Judge Allen paved the way for this action when he indicated he would sustain the demurrer without leave to amend.

The Orange county judge ruled the California Triple A unconstitutional a few weeks ago when he sustained the first demurrer filed by the Placentia packing firm against the original complaint.

The firm throughout has admitted shipping fruit without first applying for a state license and private base. Its contention that the agricultural act constituted an illegal delegation of authority was upheld by the court.

The only courses open to the state and the growers advisory committee if they wish to continue regulation of intra-state citrus shipments would be to go to the supreme court for a ruling, or to attempt the enforcement of penalties under authority of the California prorate act.

MORE ABOUT MAHAN

disappeared as he was on his way home from school for lunch.

"G-men" took up the Mahan trail in earnest when Harmon Metz Waley and Margaret, his wife, were captured in Salt Lake City, Utah. Their confession implicated the former blacksmith and auto mechanic. Waley is serving a long term in Alcatraz island.

Alvin, a penitentiary and his wife is locked up with other famous gangster "Molls" in the federal jail at Milan, Mich.

Shortly after the Waleys confessed, a Butte, Mont., police officer saw Mahan flee from his parked green sedan when the officer approached. Mahan escaped, but $15,000 of the ransom bills were found in the car.

Held Eight Days
Finding of the "hideout" house and a cache of $90,700 of the ransom money in historic Immigration canyon, five miles from Salt Lake City, Utah, also followed the Waley confession.

George was held eight days in a "two-gabled" house and finally released on the road near Issaquah, Wash., 25 miles from Tacoma, after the $200,000 ransom had been paid.

The boy said his captors addressed each other as "Harry, Bill and Alvin," and that he had seen six men during his captivity. Hoover has indicated, however, that the Waleys and Mahan were the only persons involved in the plot.

CAMPBELL NABBED WITHOUT A SHOT

CLEVELAND, May 7. (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, federal bureau of investigation chief, announced here that Harry Campbell, last of the Alvin Karpis gang, a woman described as his wife and Sam Coker, a minor gangland figure, were captured by federal agents early today at Toledo, Ohio.

Hoover said the capture was effected without the firing of a shot. Campbell was taken to St. Paul, Minn., by airplane to face charges in the Edward Bremer kidnapping, he said.

"Little Resistance"
Campbell showed no resistance, Hoover termed a "little resistance" when the agents apprehended him, Hoover said.

"We have the last of the Karpis gang," Hoover said.

Federal men surprised Campbell and the woman in a Toledo apartment.

Girl Is 19
Agents said the girl claimed to have married Campbell at Bowling Green, O., in 1935. She gave her age as 19 years.

Hoover said that when Karpis and other members of the former Barker-Karpis gang escaped from a trap here in 1934 "they were tipped off by two Cleveland politicians and we are now investigating every detail of this angle."

The bureau chief had face lifting and fingerprint operations performed by a Cleveland surgeon.

"That doctor probably is dead now," Hoover said. "We have reason to believe he was killed after performing the operations. We believe his body was dumped into Lake Erie."

Hoover said that Campbell was married under the name of "Robert Miller" and that his wife did not know anything of his criminal career. She probably will be released, he said.

Follows Karpis
Campbell's capture came less than a week after that of Karpis, who bore the label of "Public Enemy No. 1." Karpis was taken in similar manner without gun-fire in a fashionable New Orleans residential district.

Santa Ana's program of good will air tours already is attracting attention to this city from all over the Southland. The project, developed by Rodney Bacon and his aviation committee, also was instrumental in bringing Col. Roscoe Turner, famous aviator, to this city with his Boeing transport plane and his new racing ship, it was learned today.

Eight Southland cities have sent letters of congratulation to the aviation committee of the chamber, evincing interest in the good will tour schedule. The city of Alhambra, through its chamber of commerce, has invited Mr. Bacon's committee to route the first trip to that city. A letter from Wilson Nye, secretary of the Alhambra chamber, said a special effort would be made to welcome the local delegation.

The good will tours have been planned to carry Santa Ana's message of friendliness throughout Southern California and to draw attention to the superior possibilities of this vicinity as a center for aviation tests, speed trials and as a location for the agricultural act.

Another indication that the good will tour project is attracting favorable publicity to Santa Ana was seen today in a letter from Harry N. Sweet, editor of the Aero Digest, national monthly journal of the Airport Historical society. Advanced collectors of air mail souvenirs, he said, like to get special flown items carried by well known pilots on such tours as those planned by the local group.

The letter said arrangements will be made to carry out such a program provided the Santa Ana committee is interested in the idea. In return for such assistance, said Mr. Sweet, the nationally circulated magazine of which he is editor will publicize Santa Ana and its good will tour.

Yesterday afternoon the aviation committee met at the chamber of commerce and discussed plans for launching the first tour to Alhambra, as well as plans for cooperating in the program of flights to be staged tomorrow by Col. Turner.

GIRL'S RECOVERY ENDS LONG VIGIL OF MONGREL PUP

MARION, O., May 7. (AP)—Fritz, a mongrel side-shepherd puppy, ended a 13-day vigil happy.

His mistress, 16-year-old Elizabeth Stinson, nursed him through a serious illness once. So when she came down with appendicitis, he tried to respond in kind.

He sat outside the hospital door in darkness and in sunshine, in snow and bitter cold. Nurses persuaded him to eat after a few days, but he showed little interest in food.

When Elizabeth was wheeled out to go home, Fritz leaped joyfully on the stretcher. He yelped all the way home behind the ambulance. At home he took up guard at her bedside.

Yugoslav 'Queen'

Great Britain, facing, in the words of Anthony Eden, "the facts" of Italian conquest, undertook an exchange of views with its dominions of possible League of Nations reform.

Authoritative British sources said Italy had the right to ask that foreign legations be withdrawn from Ethiopia as a matter of military practice, but that it was up to the League of Nations to decide the future political status of Ethiopia.

Cabinet Divided

Eden told Commons yesterday "the league must go on," despite Premier Mussolini's staggering blow at its prestige. But the British cabinet was reported divided over what course the empire will pursue. British-supported league sanctions, which failed to stop Il Duce, still are in force.

The league council meets next week at Geneva.

From Paris came the report, written by the usually well-informed Genevieve Tabouis, that Mussolini had informed France he was determined to annex Ethiopia as an Italian colony, with various "autonomous" tribes under a Fascist governor.

Protect French, British
French and British economic interests would be respected, Il Duce was reported to have promised.

Selassie, now the conquered "Lion of Judah," reached Suez aboard H. M. S. Enterprise, en route to temporary exile in Palestine. He did not even appear on the deck of the British cruiser when it touched at the Egyptian port, however.

One of his spokesmen at Jerusalem said the fleeing emperor would remain in the Levant but a few days, departing thence for Europe. He has a villa in Switzerland.

LION GOOD BEDFELLOW! ARREST HERE BARES REIGN OF TERROR

Turner Sleeps in 'Dog House'

Even Col. Roscoe Turner, the speed-eating aviator, gets in the dog house now and then.

Mrs. Turner admitted that fact here yesterday. The Journal heard she was in town, sought her out and asked her.

"Yes," she admitted during a bantering conversation.

But Col. Roscoe Turner's dog house is an extraordinary kind of dog house. In fact it's a lion cage. It's the cage at the Turner home in Hollywood where they keep Gilmore, the famous lion who has made history as the aviator's flying companion. When Colonel Turner is in the dog house he goes out and sleeps with Gilmore. And they're great pals.

Perhaps Mrs. Turner was just joking when she admitted all this, but at the same time she explained they have a motion picture showing her husband asleep in Gilmore's cage, and the 600-pound animal trying to pull the covers off!

When Gilmore was just a little boy, he was very playful and a lot of fun. Now that he's grown up and weighs 600 pounds, he's still playful; but sometimes his play isn't fun for anyone but Gilmore, said Mrs. Turner.

"When he was a cub he used to greet me, running up and throwing his front paws about my legs," she said. "It was a very affectionate gesture. Now he does the same thing, but he weighs 600 pounds. Somehow it doesn't seem funny to be knocked down."

Gilmore used to come in the house and sit on the chairs or take a nap on the bed. Nowadays when he comes inside he is so big he slips on the rugs as they slide over the hardwood floors. Gilmore goes boom!

Of course, when Gilmore decides to take a nap on the bed nowadays, Mrs. Turner tells him to go away from there. And he does, but as soon as Gilmore thinks he isn't being watched, he goes right back.

"When Colonel Turner comes in, though, Gilmore jumps right off the bed without being told," said Mrs. Turner. "Those two are great pals."

ORANGE SEASON EARLY

REDLANDS, May 7. (AP)—Fruit shippers announce that the navel orange season will be closed by May 16. Shipment of miscellaneous varieties will follow.

A reign of terror among northern Orange county school children was brought to light today following the arrest of a man who assertedly has been molesting the youngsters. He was fined $10 and released.

Late yesterday Highway Patrolman George Peterkin and Deputy Sheriff James Ragan arrested Frank Salter, alias Frank Solotrow, 20, of Cypress. Twin sisters living at Westminster have identified Salter, by tattoo marks, as the man who had stopped them while they were on their way home from school and attempted to induce them to enter his car.

Today Salter was taken before Justice of the Peace Chris Pann, Huntington Beach, where he pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge. Judge Pann fined him $10.

Officer Peterkin, who is in charge of safety instruction in the county, has concentrated his activities in an attempt to run down suspects. He said today he expects other arrests to follow.

He said that at the Magnolia school, near Anaheim, 24 school children have reported molestations by an unidentified man. The man's description tallies with that of a man who has been reported as molesting children in the Savannah school district near Stanton.

The situation has become so aggravated, said Officer Peterkin, that mothers of children are afraid to let the youngsters come home from school unattended.

Election Results Please Hoover

PALO ALTO, Calif., May 7. (AP) Former President Herbert Hoover said today "the result of the primary election puts the Republican party in California in better shape to defeat the New Deal in November. That is the only important thing."

Mr. Hoover, who favored the victorious unopposed Republican delegation rather than the one pledged to Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, received an avalanche of congratulatory telegrams and letters from throughout the country on the outcome of the election.

Here Again and Gone Again, Girl 'Hexes' Police

Little Alta Kerr, 9-year-old Compton girl, who recently caused the Orange police department considerable worry, was in the public eye again today.

Two months ago Alta and her brother, James, Jr., 10, lived for two weeks in an abandoned shack in Orange, stealing milk for food and puzzling druggists, who reported continued thefts of magazines from in front of their stores. Alta was finally captured in Orange and returned to her home, while James was caught elsewhere.

Tuesday Alta dropped out of sight again. Compton police were in the midst of a frantic search for the wanderer when she strolled into the police station there late last night.

"I'm ready to go home," she said.

To The Journal: While we're considering the hats in the political ring, let's look at this man Landon's fedora.

One thing about Alf (alfa) is particularly interesting: He got elected as a Republican governor of Kansas when other "publicans" were hibernating "cause it wasn't popular to be one.

What seems to be his drawback is some of the boys who have attached themselves to him. That's natural. Barnacles are found on the best of boats. There probably aren't any more axe-grinders following Landon than any likely winner might have.

Our own Deputy Sheriff Jim Musick saw the Kansas some time ago and about him said in part that "he is a swell fellow, but he strikes me more as a business man than a politician. He's human, and he's considered as a candidate hasn't gone to his head."

Business man more than a politician . . . human . . . hmmm . . . that sounds pretty good!

Yours for looking over the hats and hoping there's something under them.

A 16-year-old Santa Ana boy was arrested at his home by Santa Ana police at 1 a. m. today on a warrant issued by the Orange justice court charging attempted burglary. The boy assertedly attempted to enter an Orange service station.

Officers were called to investigate the possibility of a prowler at 422 East Pine street. They found that a garage had been entered, but so far as they were able to learn, nothing is missing.

Traffic accident, intersection of Washington and Main streets. Cars involved were driven by Willis Arthur Prell, Orange, and Feodora Pineda, Huntington Beach. A child riding in the Pineda car sustained minor head injuries. The accident occurred at 2:40 p. m. yesterday.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

WHAT ho, and a whole passel of hoarays! They've started work on the streets of Orange! No more will we skip from crag to crag on South Glassell street. Mountain climbing will be strictly out when the contractors finish refinishing all four entrances to the business district. Then we'll abandon our parachute—carried in case we were marooned on one of the lofty crags—and proceed through Orange with the assurance that our back teeth will remain in place!

Yesterday morning one-half the male population of the town was out watching tractors scoop out the old asphalt, which for lo, these many years, has made traveling on the first block of South Glassell not only an adventure but almost a nightmare. Automobile travel should pick up considerable in Orange when the work is done. It'll be a great relief!

(That should get a rise out of Stan Wilson, over on the Orange News. Stan, during the winter, made remarks because I ran around in the rain in my shirt-sleeves. Now we're even!)

More fun in Anaheim! Now nobody knows who's going to be postmaster. Louis Hoskins, who was named acting official, thereby making local Democratic leaders grunt with surprise and no little pain, didn't pass his examination. It's reported. He didn't rank with the first three men seeking the job.

Joseph Elliott, E. E. Smith and William LeVecke are supposed to have been the high men in the examination.

The Demos recommended George Reid, C. of secretary and a nice guy, for the job. But they didn't get a tumble.

Now everyone's wondering if there'll be another exam, as they held in Orange, when Mrs. Vera Wetlin got the job on the second attempt, or if the present man will stay where he is.

Anyway, it's giving Anaheimers lots of things to worry about, this putting a postmaster in their new postoffice building!

Yesterday we carried a story about a big barbecue in Placentia. Deo Hasson told us about it. They're going to have a whole steer by his heels and cook him, bit by bit, and then eat him, bite by bite, Dean claims. Johnny Wagner, horse expert, is going to turn aside from his chosen job of riding prize horses and try his hand at making a full grown steer edible. In addition, a prize bull, there'll be beans. Lots of beans. In fact, mountains of beans. Also coffee, with a boatload of ice cream thrown in for good measure.

They're going to have sports—races and no doubt hatch—throwing contests in the afternoon, so folks can work up a good appetite for supper. Then, afterward, they'll have a baseball game, so folks can recover from eating too much. They think of everything, these Placentians!

The mystery of the missing lemon pie has been solved at Huntington Beach.

Some time ago, when members of the Garden club went to the Santa Ana Rancho botanical gardens, the dessert vanished. Bill Gallienne and J. Sherman Denny were accused of having a hand in the disappearance. But they protested so violently—too violently, we thought—that they were cleared of suspicion.

Don't know whether it was a guilty conscience or just a kind-hearted streak, but Chief of Police Lester Grant showed up at a chamber of commerce dinner the other day with a huge replica of the missing pastry. He presented it to J. Sherman, who whacked it up and let everyone make up for what he'd missed on the tour.

We're still expecting disclosures about that missing pie, however. Perhaps the chief just brought his contribution to the guilty parties would think the affair was over. He'll get 'em, maybe. (Note to the thieves: We'll keep the lemon quiet for one good-sized slice of news pie!)

Hither, thither and yawn—Wonder what the Midway City firemen have been doing lately? It's about time they built a new building, or planted a new lawn for the Woman's club, isn't it? ... If you think things aren't building up at Newport-Balboa, take a look along the formerly-deserted bay front on Highway 101. New boat landings and boat factories by the score. Almost ... look for big docks at the Newport Harbor Yacht club. They're having a birthday party and officially opening the yachting season a week from Saturday. Old timers won't recognize their summer stomping grounds—new paint, "everything" ... They're also partying May 23, the opening day of the harbor celebration.

VETERAN POLICE JUDGE IS OUSTED BY ORANGE COUNCIL

MALLOW NEW MAYOR AT LAGUNA

Hogue Finally Resigns At Brea; No Mayor Is Selected

Ousting of a veteran police judge and election of one new mayor featured city council meetings in Orange county last night, with intense interest centering around removal of Judge A. W. Swayze from his office in Orange and appointment of L. F. Coburn, former city attorney and Townsend worker, in his place.

At Laguna Beach L. F. Mallow was elected mayor in a unanimous vote, replacing the former mayor, Frank Champion, who had been a city councilman since formation of the city until his defeat at the polls last month.

Commissioners appointed at last night's meeting were Charles H. Jester, newly elected councilman, fire and police; Randolph Bainbridge, also newly-elected, streets, sidewalks and parks; Thomas A. Cummings, re-appointed as health and safety commissioner; and H. J. Heisler, re-appointed lights and water commissioner.

At Brea L. A. "Mike" Hogue finally succeeded in resigning from the council, to which he was re-elected last month. Previous to the election he was appointed postmaster at Brea and could not hold both positions. No action was taken regarding election of a mayor as W. D. Shaffer, who is rumored will be appointed to take Hogue's place, is in the east. Action is expected at a meeting May 20.

ORANGE.—L. F. Coburn will become Orange city judge on May 15, but at the present writing he will have no court room to preside over unless either the city council or board of supervisors takes immediate steps to provide one.

Justice A. W. Swayze resigned as city judge last night and Mr. Coburn was appointed immediately in his place. A minor controversy developed when Mr. Coburn objected strenuously to holding court in the same room with the Justice of the Peace Swayze. The contempts may be ironed out at a meeting of the council called for May 15.

Two other city office-holders were replaced by the council. Police Officer Jack Sanford making way for Carl E. Krueger, and Michael Estock, Plaza caretaker, being replaced by A. C. McShane. A number of applications for city offices were received and filed for future consideration.

All bids for the installation of filter equipment in the city plunge were rejected as being too high, and the council voted to buy the equipment in open market. Mrs. L. L. Williams was appointed on the municipal playground commission.

FULLERTON PLANS STREET IMPROVEMENT

FULLERTON.—An intensive program of street improvement, centering around outlying roads and alleys, was ordered at a meeting of the city council here last night. City Engineer Herman Hiltcher was instructed to start the program as soon as possible. Cost will be approximately $7000, it was estimated.

A resolution was adopted by the council urging the state railroad commission to give serious consideration to the Santa Fe railroad's plan for operating a bus line in this area.

ORANGE.—A round table discussion was held last evening by Orange Grove Masonic lodge members with A. Haven Smith, principal of the high school, the featured speaker, outlining history of the schools.

Boys' and girls' glee clubs gave several selections and a combined number. Maryesther Wood and Kogler were accompanists for the girls, while Percy Green accompanied the boys' group. A piano solo was played by William Slater, and a vocal solo was sung by Robert Kreidt, accompanied by his sister, Margaret Kreidt. John Campbell, worshipful master, presided over the business meeting.

Editors and Their Opinions

A digest of ideas from Orange county newspapers, reprinted as being of interest to readers of The Journal.

THE PASSING OF MR. DOOLEY

It didn't make much of a story in the papers when Peter Finley Dunne died the other day. Only a few lines in a county daily picked up by chance. If it was mentioned at all in the Los Angeles papers it was so effectively buried as to be missed altogether. To the young chaps who are deciding today what should go in the papers and what should be left out, the passing of the creator of Mr. Dooley was not news. But there was a time when his death would have been considered as newsworthy as the death of Will Rogers was a few months ago. In the days of Theodore Roosevelt, the great Irish politician was quoted even more frequently than the shrewd and tolerant cowboy in the days of Coolidge.

Hoover and Franklin D. With this difference—Mr. Dooley appealed to a much more varied if not a more numerous audience. He was read with as much relish and quoted with as much gusto by the discerning as he was by the man in the street. While Will Rogers' daily dispatch now, Mr. Dooley's weekly comment never missed fire. Not only were they always funny, but they were wise, informed, thoughtful, provoking. And they exercised a powerful and beneficial effect upon affairs in their time.

Termites live underground, but reach the wood parts of a house by building mud runways up the masonry walls.

In the case of larger animals, poisoned rats are generally used, which either kill instantly or paralyze. After the kill is made the

Bows, Arrows, Blowguns Hobby of Laguna Man

By McDONALD WHITE

Bows, arrows and blow guns, animal or birds can be used for food, as the poisons only take effect in the blood stream. Poisons are manufactured by the natives from vegetables, herbs or snake venom, often with a dash of dried, pulverized lizard livers thrown in for good measure!

Mr. Duncan spoke of importance of the bow and arrow in world history. "Bows and arrows put England on the map," he said, sitting down on the top porch step and lighting a cigarette. "Look at the battle of Crecy and Agincourt," he went on. "Seven thousand British bowmen killed 17,000 of the enemy. With bows and arrows, mind you. No machine guns."

Those figures were mighty impressive, and I got to wondering again who killed Cock Robin. And incidentally, Neil Clark was the high school lad who thought he heard a "cricket" in the bale of hay on the local archery range the other day. Pressing his ear to the old cloth target to listen, he finally tore it off and discovered a baby rattlesnake with two rattles and a button! An arrow in the right spot did the trick, but he was a jittery young man for a while after that.

Talking to Don Duncan about bows, arrows and blow guns imparts a singular importance to these ageless weapons. He never thinks of them as weapons, except when digging into the fascinating history of their development and use. To him they satisfy an instinct that is probably in all of us who have retained a semblance of the primitive. Using his words, "Archery is a very satisfying sport and interest in it is growing by leaps and bounds. Not only men, but women, too, are taking it up. And anyone can learn, who will simply follow instructions."

Haven't even scratched the notes, mental and otherwise, that were absorbed from Dr. Duncan, while his two young children hovered around and listened with equally rapt interest. But space is limited in these columns, so let's sign off with one more pertinent observation of his.

"If the American Indians had been as good shots as the old English archers, white men would have had a lot tougher time winning over this country."

Hats off to Mr. Robin Hood and his merry band of archers.

ORANGE JUNIOR CLUB ELECTS

ORANGE.—Junior Woman's club members elected officers at a meeting in the clubhouse Tuesday night, with Miss Barbara Cramer selected president; Miss Evelyn Johnson, vice president; Miss Virginia Palmer, secretary; Miss Bobbie Burns, corresponding secretary, and Miss Mary Spennetta, treasurer.

FISH, WATER ARE COAST SUBJECTS

Association to Meet in Costa Mesa May 16; Program Told

COSTA MESA.—Members of the Orange County Coast association will receive first hand information as well as see talking films of the Metropolitan Aqueduct on Tuesday evening, May 19, in the Costa Mesa clubhouse. It was announced today, Bernard C. Brennan of Glendale, director of the Metropolitan Water District, will be the speaker at the May meeting.

A member of the fish and game committee will report regarding the steps to be taken in the matter of the fishing preserve along the Orange county coast, recently held illegal by the courts because of omission of a number from the special district created.

Suggestions have been advanced for preparing a new bill to include a number, but the association is limited in funds and hesitates to undertake any additional financial burden unless it is apparent there will be some definite results, it was announced.

A proposal to create a special water district to include all the coastline of the county which has been brought up recently, may be discussed at the meeting.

ASK FUNDS FOR NEW ARMORY

ORANGE.—The question of a National Guard armory and recreation center for Orange bobbed up again Wednesday night when Lieut. H. C. Chambers of the National Guard appeared before the city council and asked that that body send a telegram to Senator McAdoo, Congressman Sam Collins and President Roosevelt to request that funds be earmarked for armory construction.

Glenn Moorehead, adjutant general for the state, is behind the move, Chambers stated, and hopes in this way to secure enough money for each project so that the city will not have to pay for anything but the site. The council acted favorably on the suggestion.

'High-Jinks' at Oceanview Told

OCEANVIEW.—John R. Peterson will officiate as master of ceremonies at a "High Jinks" program scheduled for next Wednesday evening in the Oceanview school auditorium, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association.

The musical part of the program will include several numbers by the Oceanview symphony orchestra, a trumpet duet by John Peterson and Florence Murray, accompanied by Helen Murray; a flute duet by Paul Beatty and William Phillips, and selections by Mrs. Groves' Little Orchestra. Eloise Osaki, a well known radio artist, will contribute to the program.

San Juan School Work Finished

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—Residents of this community are highly elated over completion of the WPA improvement project at the local grammar school.

The work completed consisted of a new kitchen, shower room, arcade for the school bus, a sidewalk in front of the building, and leveling and cleaning up of school grounds. Fred Bozell was foreman.

Sponsoring the improvement were the grammar school trustees, Carl H. Hankey, Tom Foster and Harlow Halladay.

More than $5,000,000 will be spent this year on new roads in the Transvaal of South Africa.

PIONEER DAYS TO BE TOLD ON KVOE

Interesting stories of events which took place during early California days, with special reference to Orange county, will be told in this evening's adult education broadcast from KVOE at 5:30 o'clock. A group of local speakers will draw from the material compiled from the recent research made by SERA and WPA groups.

Three entertaining novelty songs will be offered by the famous Sons of the Pioneers tonight at 6:45.

Versatile 'Sons'

"Pop-Eye's Spiritual," written by Hugh Fari, prominent member of the group, will bring a humorous note to the program, with the musical story of the "Railroad Boomer" and "Swiss Yodel" to be included. During the many weeks the Sons of the Pioneers have been heard on KVOE, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 6:45 p. m. and Mondays and Fridays at 8:30 p. m., they have repeated songs only twice. Their present repertoire includes over 200 numbers.

The second broadcast by Thornton Miller and his 13-piece orchestra will be made from KVOE tonight at 7:15, with special arrangements of popular tunes of the day offered. A few to be included are "Dallas Days," "I Found a Dream," "Rhythm and Romance," "Bugle Call Rag" and "Dixieland Band." Vocalists will be Lois Miller and Sam Conover.

A variety of songs and tunes will be heard on tonight's program by Thelma Jones—"The Western Sweetheart"—and the Dixie Ramblers at 6 o'clock. The favorite songs "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party," "Rain," "Blue Hoosier Blues," "Lights Out" and "Alla En El Rancho Grande" will be included with the guitar duo "China Boy" and "fiddlin'" tunes by "Steve."

Concert Band

Problems of the "share-cropper" in the cotton belt will be dramatized in a presentation by the Resettlement administration tonight at 7:45, showing how steps are being taken to relieve the situation. The playlet is well cast and is of most interesting interest.

Following a half-hour program of popular dance tunes beginning at 8 o'clock tonight, the Manhattan concert band WPA presentation will bring KVOE listeners selections by Meyerbeer, Victor Herbert and Sousa. They will include "Coronation March" from the opera "La Prophete," "Naughty Marietta" selection, and "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Circus bears are accused of murder in a stirring mystery dramatization called "Claws of Steel" to be heard at 8:45 o'clock tonight, another "Front Page Drama." The story is especially adapted to microphone technique and features the artistry of Henry Swan, ace sound-effect man.

Can you recall the old fashioned home of a generation ago? Remember when father read aloud from "Nicholas Nickleby" or "Henry Esmond," or the young folks would gather around the piano and sing "Auntie Laurie?" Times changed all that with the advent of the automobile and movies. Then along came radio and its diversified interests which tend to restore the fireside picture to a great extent. An analysis of this picture will be given in tomorrow morning's "You and Your Radio" broadcast from KVOE at 11:30.

Radio Roundup

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS

By HOMER CANFIELD

DOCKING ALONGSIDE YOUR stream-lined, multi-tubed percolator of today, that old side-wheeler, Show Boat, will recall the crystal set days of yesteryear. (KFI, 7:15)

On board will be the stars of the decade ago—Jones and Hare, the Happiness Boys; Vaughn de Leath, the original Sweetheart of the Air; Joe White, the Silver Masked Tenor; the Cavaliers Quartet, and Announcer Phillips Carlin.

They were the great idols of their day, long before the Rudy Vallee, Jack Benny, Kate Smith and Bing Crosby era. And all are still on radio's merry-go-round.

WAGNER AND RAVEL FEATURED

PLAYING A SPECIAL Standard Symphony Hour concert in honor of Music Week, Dr. Alfred Hertz has included the works of such celebrated composers as Wagner, Mendelssohn, Gounod, Grieg, Richard Strauss and Ravel. (KFI, 8:15)

Mickey Gillette, whose own programs are heard over NBC wires, will play the saxophone solo in Ravel's "Bolero."

Complete program details follow: Prelude—"Lohengrin" Wagner; "Midsummer Night's Dream" Mendelssohn; Spring Song—"Phryne" Gounod; Solange's Song—"Peer Gynt Suite" Grieg; Don Juan—Richard Strauss; Bolero—Ravel.

RETURN POSTPONED

GATHER ROUND while I tell of Dick Powell. Since again postponing his return to Hollywood Hotel, the stories have started their vicious circle once more... he can't sing a note... he's lost his contract... it's politics... he's married... he's been canned. All have supporters. And all are wrong.

True, young Mistia Powell has had more than just a sore throat. An operation for what is known as a singer's node—a small knot, or wart-like growth on the vocal cords, was performed. It's something many singers have had done.

Grace Moore went through the ordeal last winter during a prolonged absence from the Victor's show, Remember? She, too, was said to have been "merely suffering from an acute attack of laryngitis."

While not a serious operation, one must be very careful before singing again. The cords take time—six to eight weeks, to heal and strengthen properly. Realizing this, Powell is exercising exceedingly good judgment in not rushing the matter. In line shape now, he has decided one more week should clinch the matter.

However, starting Monday, Dick will no longer be idle. He goes in a new picture at Warners called "Stage Struck." The singing sequences will tag along in a week or two to give the lad as much time as possible.

His business manager, Mike Levee, told this writer to expect the life and blood of Hollywood Hotel to be back on the job a week from this Friday night. He didn't say "positively," but it sounded like the real thing. So here's hoping.

LILY PONS FILM ENDS TONIGHT

The famous songbird, Lily Pons, will be seen and heard for the last time here tonight when her picture, "I Dream Too Much," has its final showings at Walker's State theater.

Miss Pons plays the role of a young French girl, hungry for life and love, and who rebels at the stern demands of fame, making over life to suit her own pattern.

Her leading man is Henry Fonda, and others in the cast include Osgood Perkins and Eric Blore.

The other picture on the bill is "Without Regret," starring Elissa Landi, and featuring Kent Taylor, Paul Cavanaugh and Frances Drake.

Tomorrow at Walker's State theater will start a new western thriller, "Trail of Terror," starring Bob Steele. He is seen as a "G-Man" who masquerades as an escaped convict in order to get on the inside of a band of outlaws.

Also on Friday and Saturday's bill at Walker's State are an Edgar Kennedy comedy, "Gasoline," a color cartoon, "Sinbad the Sailor," chapter No. 3 of "The Miracle Rider," and a news reel.

DOUBLE BILL AT BROADWAY

With Joan Bennett and Cary Grant in the roles of the always scrapping, always making-up sweethearts, "Big Brown Eyes," adapted from the novel of the same name, opens at the Broadway theater today with a second feature, "Gentle Julia," famous Booth Tarkington comedy starring little Jane Withers.

"Big Brown Eyes" is a story of a wise-cracking manicurist, Joan Bennett, who sees all and knows all, and of how she helps her boy friend, a detective, solve a series of crimes that have baffled a city.

"Gentle Julia" is the story of young folks in love and young fry in trouble. The comedy teams Jane Withers with Jackie Searle, former Fullerton lad. Jane and Jackie are cousins, perpetually engaged in a feud. Jane's only other diversion is interfering with the erratic romances of her pretty aunt, Marsha Hunt.

Soviet Russia has announced that representatives of foreign firms may reside in the country for one month without registration.

JIMMIE ALLEN'S MOVIE OPENS

Featuring the nationally famous young radio star, Jimmie Allen, "The Sky Parade" opens today at the West Coast theater with a second picture, "Charlie Chan at the Circus," with Warner Oland and Francis Ford.

In "The Sky Parade," Jimmie Allen takes the part of the orphaned son of a wartime ace who was brought up by his father's buddies. When a gang of racketeers try to steal an automatic pilot invented by Jimmie's friends, things start to happen with a bang.

The latest Charlie Chan thriller is said to be the most baffling and intriguing of any of the popular series of Chan pictures. Criminal master minds plot his death, deadly cobras strike out with poisonous fangs, and foaming gorillas rage at his back, but the famous Chinese detective calmly and silently unravels one of the most baffling mysteries of his career in "Charlie Chan at the Circus."

Senate Group Puts O. K. on Navy Bill

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—The senate appropriations committee yesterday approved the $531,000,000 naval supply bill in essentially the same form as it passed the house.

The record peace-time measure calls for the construction of 333 airplanes, 12 destroyers, 6 submarines and continuance of work on 84 ships of varying types now under construction.

The bill authorizes the construction of not more than 2 battle ships in the event that any other signatory of the Washington naval treaty shall start work on capital ships and places upon the President the responsibility of determining whether such construction has been started.

F. D. R. POLLS FOUR TO 1 IN STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7. (AP) Closing tabulations in Tuesday's presidential primary, disclosed today a total Democratic vote more than one-third greater than the Republican in an election which brought out more than 55 per cent of California's qualified voters.

The Associated Press closing tabulation, based on 11,162 precincts out of 11,708 in the state showed a total Democratic vote of 928,917 and a total Republican vote of 558,294, or a grand total of 1,517,211.

The Democratic delegates pledged to President Roosevelt received more than four times the number of votes for two other slates combined.

The uninstructed Republican slate received 337,945 votes compared to 250,349 for the group pledged to Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas. Governor Landon commented in Topeka he was "entirely satisfied."

The delegation pledged to Roosevelt received 768,617 votes. Upton Sinclair's "Epic" slate received 101,403 votes, and Representative John S. McGroarty's Townsendite delegation, 58,897. Each of the latter two avowedly favored President Roosevelt, but sought victory in order to bring platform suggestions before the Democratic convention.

California delegations have 44 votes in the national convention of each party.

WOMAN HERE GETS SECOND JAIL TERM FOR CONTEMPT OF COURTALSO FACING CHARGES OF PERJURY*Judges Allen Metes Out Second Sentence In Row Over Ranch

Belligerent Mrs. Florence Keene today was serving a three-day jail sentence for contempt of court and District Attorney W. F. Men-ton was studying the transcript of yesterday's court battle over her husband's estate with a view toward perjury charges, as a climax to an intra-family squabble which has burst into the courts here many times in the past six months.

Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday sent the woman to jail for assertingly refusing to tell the truth on the witness stand for the second time within a month. He also ordered the district attorney to start a perjury investigation immediately.

How It Started
Mrs. Keene's court troubles started last December, when her 57-year-old rancher husband, Arthur Keene, was adjudged incompetent by the court and sent to a private sanitarium in Los Alamitos.

Mrs. Keene and a brother-in-law, James Keene, both applied for guardianship papers. James Keene was appointed, and he immediately secured a writ enjoining Mrs. Keene from disposing of her husband's property. Mrs. Keene, who was fighting the trusteeship of the 3000-acre Carbon canyon ranch of her husband through the courts with Tom L. McFadden of Anaheim as attorney, is said to have continued to administer her husband's affairs much as she wished, despite efforts of his three brothers to take over.

"Judge," James Keene said yesterday, "that woman, she threatened to run us all off the place time and again. She had her boy and girl chuck rocks at us and she cussed us out every time we came near the place. Why, she even put water in the gas tank of our Ford when we tried to take it off the place."

On several occasions, various men testified, Mrs. Keene has adopted stringent methods of keeping the Keene family off her husband's ranch. Various belligerent episodes in the sanitarium were testified to by A. A. Gilham, operator of the place.

Mrs. Keene, put on the stand and subjected to a grueling examination by J. Edward Johnson, attorney for the trustee, entered a categorical and specific denial to everything he asked her.

Attorney McFadden yesterday was replaced in the battle by Z. B. West of Santa Ana as Mrs. Keene's representative.

Judge Gives Warning
Judge Allen in sentencing Mrs. Keene to the jail term told her that "she must stop her interference with the guardians of Mr. Keene or suffer the inevitable consequences."

"You have been interfering wantonly with the orders of the court," he said, "and have been making absolutely false statements in the courtroom. I intend to put a stop to it. If your children are not stopped from the same activities I am going to make them answer to contempt charges, too."

ON THE POLITICAL FRONTMRS. ALVIN T. HERTZ*By The Associated Press

If the Republicans could be said to have a dowager-queen that person might be Mrs. Alvin T. Hertz, for years vice chairman of the party's national committee.

In the campaigns of 1924 and 1928 she directed the women's republican clubs which she had helped organize in the decade before. Furthermore, she was national committeewoman and state vice chairman for her party in her home state of Kentucky.

She stepped down from the director's post in the women's division for this campaign, content to offer her advice on speeches, speakers and appointments.

She inherited her political interests as well as her directorship in a rich manufacturing concern from her husband.

HUGE CUT IN CULTIVATION COST SHOWNWahlberg's Studies In Cooperation With 90 Growers Charted

Cultivation costs in Orange county citrus orchards have dropped 50 per cent in the last 10 years. Growers have found also that 18 acre inches of water per year is sufficient and brings better results than excessive irrigation. Less cultivation and irrigation has increased money returns.

This situation was strongly evidenced today as Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg announced completion of the tenth year of production cost studies for citrus orchards.

Water Takes Profit
Approximately 90 growers are cooperating in the studies by keeping complete records on items contained in their records. Mr. Wahlberg said the study shows there is no advantage gained from application of more than 18 acre inches of water per year. Most of the orchards showing high profit have used approximately this amount.

There has been a noticeable downward trend in cost of cultivation in the decade. The average decrease has been about 50 per cent and in some cases the drop has been 75 per cent.

In regard to fertilization, Mr. Wahlberg said, it has been found that the most profitable orchards have used more fertilizer than the less profitable ones. He said a simple nitrogenous fertilizer and a bulky organic material constitute an efficient fertilization program.

Fumigated Groves Better
For Valencia oranges, he said, records show that last year the orchards which were fumigated produced heavier yields of better quality fruit than those which were only sprayed. The cost of fumigation is higher than the cost of spraying but the returns to the grower are higher because of better yield and better quality fruit, Mr. Wahlberg said the records show.

At the end of each year the records kept by cooperating growers are analyzed and the growers are assisted in determining what the efficiency of their orchards is. Bulletin showing results of the production cost studies are available at the farm advisor's office.

The study is the most complete of its kind in the state in that it covers a longer period than any other.

Landon Workers Here Tell Thanks

Officers of the Southern California Landon for President club today expressed their appreciation for the work done in Orange county in behalf of Governor Landon. They pointed out that Orange county is one of the few counties in the state that poled a majority vote for Landon.

"The officers of the Landon club are loyal Republicans and stand ready to accept cordially the action of the Republican national convention," officers of the county Landon for President club announced. "The failure of the Landon delegation will in no wise lessen their enthusiasm for the success of the Republican party, and they trust that all Republicans will accept the results of the primary in the same spirit."

"I haven't been so glad about anything in years," he said of his retirement. "It was an awful load, and I'm glad I'm rid of it. Now I'm going to enjoy myself."

How's Business?

(This is the third in a series of six articles on the progress of economic recovery.)

By FRANK L. WELLER
WASHINGTON, May 7. (P)—Recent increases in farm income, adding billions of dollars to the nation's purchasing power, have written an important chapter in economic history.

Economic analysts find it significant that the farm is getting closer to the relative position as a purchaser which it held prior to changes developed during and after the World war.

In the decade after the war, farm prosperity failed to keep pace with industrial prosperity, with the result that the 30,000,000 Americans who live by tilling the soil were getting a diminishing part of the national income.

Farm income reached its peak in 1919, according to statistics of the department of agriculture, at $16,935,000,000. The 1923-29 average was only $11,528,000,000, and in 1932 the farm return was only $5,337,000,000.

Income Regained
By 1935 the total, including government benefit payments, had jumped to $8,110,000,000, indicating that about 44 per cent of the crop from 1923-29 to 1932 had been regained, and 1936 is showing further substantial improvement.

Farm income for the first quarter of this year is estimated at approximately 7 per cent over the same months of 1935.

The big rise in price levels in 1933 and 1934 was concentrated largely in farm products. So, while in 1932 the farm population had a per capita purchasing power of only 56 per cent of its pre-war level, by 1935 it had the means to buy 84 per cent of pre-war totals.

For persons off the farm the level was 84 per cent in 1932 and 90 per cent in 1935. While it is true that not all of the relative position lost since the pre-war days has been regained, the farmer has gained much more rapidly than the city man.

Predicts More Buying Power
Farm prices have fallen off a little in the past year, but income has risen further as a result of larger crops. Some analysts point to the danger that increased acreage, and still limited foreign outlets, might result in a serious drop in prices. On the other hand, Louis H. Bean, economic advisor to the agriculture department, says domestic purchasing power is fairly certain to expand further in 1936 and 1937, and that this will tend to support the price level.

He estimates that at the close of 1935 the level of consumer income had advanced to 80 per cent of the 1924-29 average.

The proportion of total farm production going into export channels has been reduced from 12.8 per cent in 1924-29 to 7.7 per cent in 1935-36. Reviving export outlets is a slow process, which makes domestic consumption all the more important.

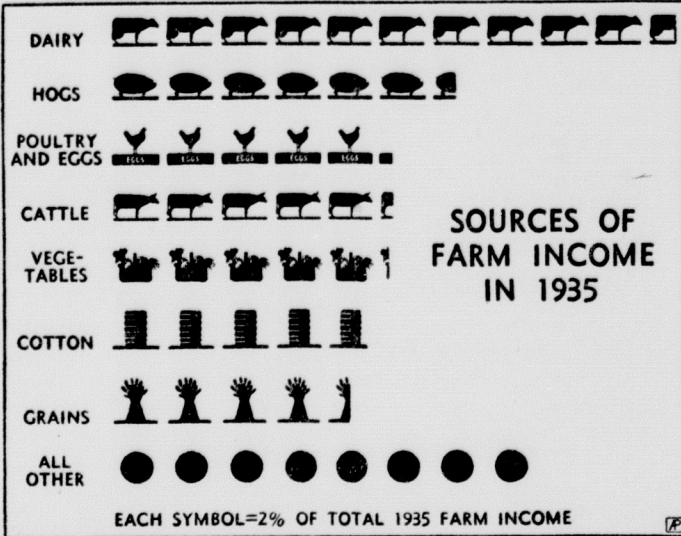

Relation Favorable
Bean's economic review for the department said the relation between gross receipts and production costs in agriculture is much more favorable for farmers. He estimated an increase of nearly $3,000,000,000 in annual farm income since the depth of the depression as compared with an increase of only $260,000,000 in the cost of farm production.

(In the fourth article Claude A. Jagger, Associated Press financial editor, will discuss recovery in finance and banking.)

Snake Raiser Loses Arm, Police Kill Reptiles

MONTREAL, May 7. (P)—Edward E. Smith, the Louisiana snake raiser who lost his left arm after being bitten by an adder, was in critical condition today and no longer the owner of nine reptiles.

Montreal police saw to that yesterday some 15 hours after Smith's hand was amputated in an effort to halt spread of poison through his system. They gassed the snakes and burned them.

NATION'S BUYING POWER THROUGH FARM EARNINGS INCREASED BY BILLIONS

The men who till the soil in the United States received a total income of $8,110,000,000 in 1935, the above chart illustrating the sources.

PROBLEMS OF CARRYING OUT TREE PROGRAM RELATED

The problems met in carrying out a uniform tree planting plan, plus the advantages in beauty through development of such a program, were explained today in an article released by the Santa Ana forestry board. This is the second article in a series, others of which will follow at later dates. The article follows:

In the first of this series the history of the forestry board, its personnel, and some of its accomplishments were mentioned as well as the planting program for the current year.

This work is not, however, carried on without difficulty. Opposition is met with and from sources that would surprise the reader. Yes, some of our citizens otherwise very civic minded, in fact some leaders in civic movements, are slow to cooperate when they feel that the shoe pinches a little in regard to uniform parkway planting.

What Some Say
"Ah, yes," they say, "beautify the city, but I shall have whatever I please in front of my own house." This, of course, if acceded to, would defeat the very essence of uniform planting. No one, certainly, would deny the beautiful effect of an avenue of trees of the same type, regularly spaced and trimmed, and of even size and head. We have many examples in Santa Ana, a few of which are West Broadway, Victoria drive, Riverside drive, and Fairmont drive.

One current problem facing the board is the planting of South Main street made necessary by the widening project now under way. Before any type is determined upon, soil tests must be made, authorities consulted as to the success of various types under similar conditions. Then the zoning, both present and probable future, must be considered.

Main street offers an excellent example of a street now partly business and rapidly becoming more so; a main thoroughfare which can impress or detract from the mental picture of our entire city obtained by our visitors, many of whom are prospective home owners. The tree selected must be adapted to the soil; while giving shade it must not deprive present or future businesses of their rightful advertising possibilities by low hanging foliage; and it must fit the space without interfering with traffic, sidewalk or curb.

Violation of Ordinance
The above routine is followed in prescribing a tree for each street in the city, and at no direct cost of the planting to the property owner. What then, if a tree planted by an individual; a tree type other than prescribed? It is in violation of an ordinance to be sure, and as such calls for prosecution by proper authority. The purpose of the ordinance is not to create a hardship but rather to protect even as zoning and building.

Additional information may be secured from Frank Cannon, secretary of the civil service board of examiners, at the postoffice.

TOMATO ACT PARLEY IS PLANNEDCommittee Authorized to Meet With Webb at Local Meeting

A statewide committee of tomato growers will meet with Attorney General U. S. Webb late this month to work out a definite interpretation of the state act which sets up regulations for grading tomatoes. The committee was authorized yesterday afternoon at a conference of growers held in the farm bureau hall here.

One Orange county grower will be on the committee, and two from the rest of the state, it was explained today by Roland D. Flaherty, farm bureau secretary. Representatives of the state health department will be at the coming meeting also. W. K. Duffy, chief enforcement officer of the state health department, attended yesterday's session.

When a definite, detailed interpretation of the act and tomato grades is worked out, state inspectors will enforce it uniformly throughout California, Mr. Flaherty said.

Yesterday's meeting was a preliminary session at which progress was made, according to Mr. Flaherty, because cooperation was evidenced between the growers and the state health department officials. Last year when the new tomato grades were inaugurated, there was considerable difficulty.

Others from outside the county who attended the session were Alex Johnson, secretary of the state farm bureau; Bernard Campbell of the San Bernardino county farm bureau; Pearl McCain, Chino; James Strathern, Moor Park; Frank Stetson, head of the growers association for the San Fernando region; J. Appleton, head of the growers organization at Simi; Mr. and Mrs. Nuckles, San Fernando; W. A. Collins of Norco and W. B. Church, Pedley.

Mary Stoddard Should Wife Return to First Husband or Try to Make Second One Happy?

By MARY STODDARD
Thirteen years ago she divorced her husband she married while in her teens. Now, in her '30s, married to another man who is devoted to her, she finds her first husband still loves her, and wants to return to him, without hurting the second husband. If she and her past and present husband cannot solve her problem, no one outsider can. Only someone who has been in a similar tangle can help her.

Dear Miss Stoddard:
I am now in my 30's. At a very young age I was married. I wanted to go places and do things while my husband was content to sit in the same room with me and read. I caused many a quarrel that I know now I could have averted.

In 1923 I felt life had passed me by so I left him and received a divorce. My husband told me that some day I would know I have always belonged to him and always would and that he would always be at hand. Now I find he was right. I love him, always have and always will.

I also realize that no man-made court can give a divorce to two people "whom God has joined together." I'm unhappy, but here is my problem.

I met a man the first of last year and married him. Three months later I found it was the first husband I had always loved. My present husband is very good to me and loves me. I've tried so hard to make him happy, but cannot return his love.

To make matters worse, three weeks ago I met my first husband on the street by accident. He had just arrived in town, the first time I had seen him since the divorce.

He still feels the same toward me, and he knows my feelings. We talked it over and over. Could come to no conclusion and so parted, he saying to me, "Keep the chin up and it will work out in God's own way." I, with the promise to try. We are never to see one another until things are different.

Here are some of the things we talked about. I don't want to hurt my present husband as I have the other. He said my wishes are his. But I feel so dejected and small. One I am sure, is punished by his or her wrong doing. It is the my punishment to join through life trying to make one man happy while I love another? Dare I tell my present husband? Will I bring the wrath of God upon me? Please help me. I'll sign myself "ONE WHO IS DETERMINED TO DO RIGHT THIS TIME."

Vivid Indian Note Marks Program

Appearing in handsome Navajo Indian costumes with silver and turquoise jewelry, Mrs. May W. Borum and Mrs. L. R. Stearns led a program dealing with missionary work among American Indians, arranged for meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church, Tuesday at the church.

Indian rugs, weaving and basketry were used by Mrs. Borum and Mrs. Ada Cave to decorate the room, while rock and cactus arrangements bordered the stage. An Indian tepee, made by Russell Crouse, stood at one side of the stage, with two thunder birds guarding the entrance. A beaded Indian cradle and Navajo dolls completed the setting.

Mrs. Borum, who lived for 12 years among the Navajos in Arizona, was introduced by her Indian name of "Schima Blue Eyes." She wore the native costume of purple velvet basque, full black skirt striped with yellow, moccasins and handmade Indian jewelry.

Mrs. Stearns wore a similar costume with a blue blouse. "Dance of the Desert" was played by Mrs. Jessie White while guests gathered for luncheon, and to hear Mrs. Borum tell of the Navajo religion. Other numbers during a musical interlude were given by Miss Mildred Marchant and Miss Beulah Parker with Mrs. White as accompanist.

These "days" for doing things that you ought to do any day are getting so numerous as to lead to curious ethical conflicts. A boy in Sabetha, Kansas, was taken to task for missing Sunday school one Sunday. "I wanted to come," he said, "but Sunday was Mothers' day and mother wanted me to go fishing with her, so I went."

Words cannot describe it, you must see it. It is cool and sheer for sports and street wear and is guaranteed 100% as to washability and wearability. "Clothes off proclaim" the woman. Murmuring Pines dresses proclaim chic and comfort. 205 North Broadway.

'No Help' Says Ex-Wife of James

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—Vera Vermillion James, 30, former wife of Robert S. James who is accused in Los Angeles of using rattlesnakes in a murder plot against his fifth wife, said today: "I certainly will not try to help him."

She was located in a midtown hotel beauty parlor where she works. She became his second wife in 1921 and obtained an annulment in 1928, she said, after living with him seven weeks.

"I can't imagine him being capable of murder," she said. "He really was charming. He had a terrible temper, but so do lots of people."

Willard Junior High Items

Roman objects, craftwork, Indian relics and other interesting articles were exhibited last week in showcases at Willard Junior High school. Miniatures of a vestal temple and other buildings, carved in soap, dolls in Roman costumes and a Roman scroll were assembled by Mrs. Mabel C. Budd. Arthur S. Nisewanger contributed craftwork, Indian bracelets, a boy's hat, carved figures, brass vases, a wooden elephant and other oddities were displayed by Mrs. Anita Whitaker. Mrs. Vivian Meeks contributed a typewriter chart and old typewriters dated 1885 and 1895. Guatemalan souvenirs of Mrs. Lucy M. Wright in the display included coins, pottery, coffee beans, gourds, stone heads and handicraft.
"Teapot on the Rock," a one-act play, was presented by J. M. Swarthout's high school drama class, featured the lower division assembly held Friday. Members of the cast included Mary Ellen Dudley, Ruth Greenwald, Gerry Gilbert, Bill Christ, Kenny Oliphant

STATE CROPS AT A GLANCE

By Associated Press

TRUCK CROPS EARLY

RIVERSIDE.—Early truck crops will reach their peak this month. A. E. Bittel, county agricultural commissioner, reports. Tomatoes, squash, onions, green beans, corn and other vegetables are being harvested with prospects of a fair return to growers.

APRICOTS BELOW NORMAL

VENTURA.—The apricot crop will be 25 to 35 per cent of normal, A. H. Hall, county agricultural commissioner, estimates. The heaviest bloom of Valencia oranges ever experienced in the county is reported.

WALNUT CROP LIGHT

SAN BERNARDINO.—County Agricultural Commissioner John P. Coy reports the walnut crop will be lighter than last year due to early warm weather and lack of rainfall. Other crop prospects include peaches fair, pears irregular, apricots light, grapes below normal, potatoes light, more than last year.

RAINS HELP IN NORTH

SANTA BARBARA.—Eugene S. Kellogg, county agricultural commissioner, reports timely rains advanced condition of all county crops, particularly ranges, grain hay and grain.

FROST HURTS ALMONDS

SAN LUIS OBISPO.—A light almond crop that may, however, exceed last year is indicated by the survey of County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas Chalmers.

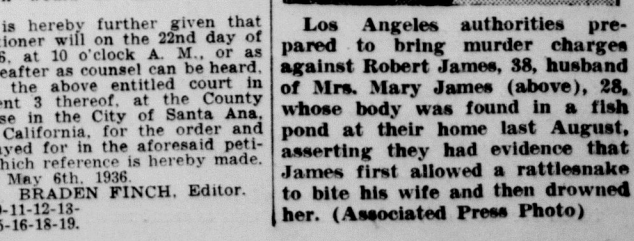

GOOD CROPS SEEN

BEAUMONT.—Fair to good crops in all deciduous fruits except apricots, which were caught in the late March frost, are estimated for the San Geronio pass region by Crop Reporter Guy Bogart.

START GRAIN HARVEST

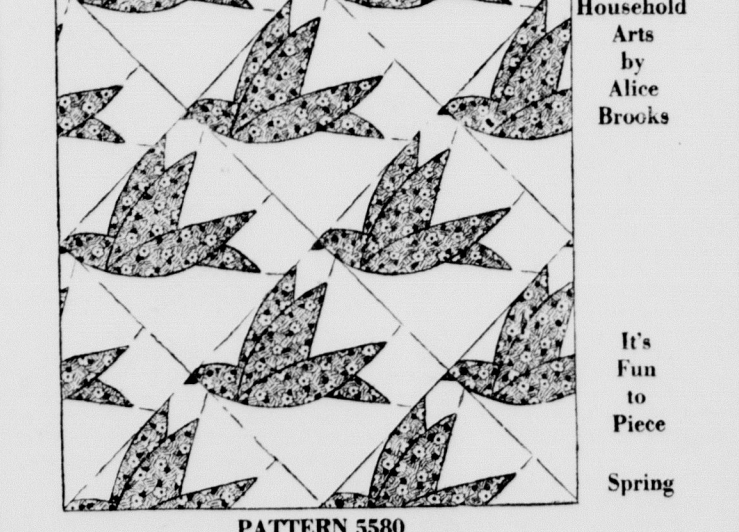

EL CENTRO.—Harvesting of Imperial county's grain crop has started, B. A. Harrigan, agricultural commissioner, reports. He estimates 50,000 acres of barley and 56,000 acres of wheat will be harvested.

Slaying Victim

Los Angeles authorities prepared to bring murder charges against Robert James, 38, husband of Mrs. Mary James (above), 28, whose body was found in a fish pond at their home last August, asserting they had evidence that James first allowed a rattlesnake to bite his wife and then drowned her. In Hongkong—and at Home

DARN clever, those Chinese! After so many years, they have finally figured out that they should be sending missionaries to the United States, instead of receiving them.

At least, that apparently is the idea of those Hongkong authorities who find a book stall proprietor for selling risqué American magazines.

That's the trouble with the white man among his yellow, brown and black brothers. He gives them not only his virtues, but also his vices. Every international port has its throng of panders who make an easy living by catering to the lowest wishes of white visitors. We quote from L. E. Laypool, of The San Diego Sun, who has just returned from a trip to Havana:

Maybe you didn't know it but the white man has got himself in kind of bad in the tropics, whether it be in the Latin countries, the South Seas or the Far East. It seems that the minute he lands there are two things he wants and he wants both of them fast. One is liquor and if you are following me you know what the other is. Fancy a world dominated by the darker races. What would Nordic Americans say if a boat load of Africans or Bushmen docked and its passengers evinced the same yearnings. You wouldn't like it, eh? Well, what makes you think they like it when we do it?

"O those people are savages and will do anything for money," you say.

That's what you think. They do anything rather than be killed, but love of money was an idea that we introduced among them. It was the white man who introduced black men among the natives of Cuba and gave them all they have today in the way of fear and greed and depravity. And if the Cubans make a business of catering to the lower tastes of white visitors it's because they have learned what the white man wants.

Not a very nice commentary on the proud white race,
is it? Perhaps those Hongkong police were right when they fined that book shop operator. If you don't think so, take a look at some of the magazines you can buy in downtown Santa Ana.

A new rat poison has been invented. It is called propyl-beta-bromallyl-barbituric acid. We are just a little sorry for the rats.

Too Many Brains

WE KNEW there would be trouble when the Republicans got themselves a Brain Trust. And now it's started.

First, it is learned that three of their best brains—Professors Tucker, Bradford and Carpenter—were among the 1028 economists and teachers who came out in open opposition to the Republican Hawley-Smoot tariff in 1930.

Then someone digs up the story that Professor Carpenter acted as an adviser to a Socialist candidate for office in Buffalo several years ago.

And now it appears that another of the panel, Prof.
Thomas Nixon Carver of Harvard, once wrote some "Essays on Social Justice" that are chock full of subversive ideas. Professor Carver wanted to redistribute unearned wealth, fix minimum wages and housing standards, eliminate defectives and fix a minimum income as a qualification for marriage. The problem of distributing wealth, he said is one "of public regulation and social control, and not a problem of voluntary individual conduct."

Now what will the G. O. P. do with a Brain Trust like that?

Prepare for a real treat. The Journal will start
E. Phillip Oppenheim's new novel, "Floating Peril," next Friday.

Protect Yourself!

MOST accidents occur when the highways are crowded.
And that brings us to this rule in The Journal's PROTECT YOURSELF campaign.

Rule No. 7—DON'T CROWD THE CAR AHEAD
OF YOU.

The driver in front might stop at any time—suddenly —without warning. If you are rolling too close, you might not be able to halt or to turn aside. And then your name —and his, too—probably will come out in the newspapers
as traffic casualties.

It's unsafe to depend on other motorists, rights-of-way, safety laws, or patrolmen to guard your life. You must PROTECT YOURSELF.

Entomologist says worms are insensitive to red light. Any traffic cop will confirm this statement.

Something Everyone Can Enjoy

ALWAYS busy lifting the level of music and its appreciation in "singing Orange county," the Santa Ana Musical Arts club tonight in Willard auditorium will climax Music week by sponsoring a recital of talented professionals.

Orange county understands and enjoys good music.
The activity of so many professional and amateur groups proves that. And it is heartening to see these various organizations cooperate so effectively in a common cause
when the occasion arises.

Oh, yes. If you go tonight, you'll enjoy that recital.

Why We Don't Want a Prison

SANTA ANA PRISON, May 7. (P)—An apparently crazed Filipino convict ran amuck and stabbed 11 other prisoners with a home-made knife yesterday before he was fatally shot by a guard. One other convict was wounded by a bullet which passed through the knife-wielder. Three hundred other convicts fled screaming in terror before the Filipino and his self-fashioned weapon made from a piece of fence wire.

(Editor's note: The name of Santa Ana has been substituted for that of San Quentin in this current news dispatch.)

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Bicycling has given some parts of New York the glittering spin of Rotterdam. Not since the bike went the way of the pug dog and puff sleeve has
it attained such popularity. For years its use
was confined almost solely to messengers in Wall Street.

O. O. McIntyre

Today in the upper Broadway area several bicycle stores and renting agencies have opened. Also bike tool stores.
And the bicycle parking
problem has taken on the importance of the baby carriage problem in the courtyards and in front of apartment houses in Harlem and the Bronx.

However, the most noticeable evidence of the renaissance is in Central park. Many bicycle clubs, mostly stenographers and clerks,
have been formed to pedal about the exclusive new track for an hour and then breakfast in the open at the municipally owned Tavern on the Green.

Another indication of the sudden popularity are warning signs before apartment houses on the upper East Side: "No Bicycles." Every morning, too, the roads leading out of New York for the New England area are awash with wheels. Young vacationists off for the countryside.

In France, and I believe Holland,
the bicyclist has supreme right of way, and we bet the motorist who runs him down. But New York hasn't such a law, and weaving in and out motor traffic has become one of the daily deathdodging miracles of this skip-thegutter town. Bicycle makers are angling for a Woolcott, Dorothy Parker or such bell sheep to lead
the renaissance. To give it swank.

There is talk that the dapper
100-pound Sid Solomon, of Casino celebrity, is to try to re-establish the jinxed Embassy, once a high-society rendezvous on East 57th street.
It has been shuttered since Gil Boag tried gallantly but futilely to re-establish himself and the Embassy in favor. His backer,
Jimmy Thompson, dropped $60,000
and called it a day. But Sid put the long out-moded Casino back on the map, and there are hopefuls who believe he can repeat with the Embassy.

Park avenue's only capeist is the veteran Pooty Bellow, who goes to Dorn year by year to call on his old friend, ex-Kaiser Wilhelm.
Bigelow, a commanding figure, is doubly so when with true old-fashioned gallantry he swirls the black cape in a sweeping bow to passing friends. Otto Kahn wore a white-lined Inverness cape to the opera and auspicious first night to his final days. He has no successor to carry on. Dudley Field Malone was also an Inverness addict in younger days.

So far as I know, the only New York private home where detectives are constantly on guard are those of John D. Rockefeller, jr., and J. Pierpont Morgan. Sometimes the dicks are not visible, but if one stops to loiter they appear suddenly and mysteriously like a Thurston materialization, boom above
nowhere and lounge toward one,
looking the other way. Fred C.
Kelly, in a jocular mood, once stuck a suspicious looking bundle
under his arm and walked past
one of the homes, stopping, turning, looking at the bundle above furtively until it was almost time to turn in an alarm. Then he sauntered on.

Thingumbobs: Ralph Barton's drawings are receiving high bids
among collectors. Helen Willis Moody has completed a 35,000
word autobiography. . . . Baudelaire, exotic French writer, was a lover of garlic and onions. . . . Roy McCardell made enough money
on the side for all living expenses
for years, winning prize contests.
Also he won a 12-room house and lot. . . . Raymond G. Carroll, long a European correspondent, is a teetotaler, but on festive occasions sniffs a bouquet of brandy.
. . . Al Smith, who lives across Fifth avenue, is a frequent visitor to the Central park. . . . He is quickly surrounded by a group of kids. . . . Harry Burton has been fishing with Ernest Hemingway.

Memory: The first train trip
during the days of open-end
coaches, and in passing from one to another zip went your hat. And you arrived in The Big City as bareheaded as a jay bird.

And "Spike" Hunt was recalling
the Indiana family Kin Hubbard used to tell about that moved so often that when anybody carried a piece of furniture out of the house the chickens held up their feet to be tied.

EVERYDAY MOVIES

By Denys Wortman

"Let him come up and surprise me when I'm working once—I want him to think I'm a good housekeeper."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, May 7.—It's a sure-fire bet that the house will pass the Frazier-Lemke bill to refinance farm mortgages with a $3,000,000,000 issue of greenbacks.
Working very quietly, the stage
has been all set. The hostile Democratic leaders can't hold their confidence and the Republican's don't want to hold theirs.

Except for a relatively small bloc of westerners, most of the Democrats who signed up for the bill privately are against it. But the fear of Father Coughlin is greater than the threats and pleas of their leaders.

The radio priest showed his power
in last week's Pennsylvania primary. Two Democrats who had refused to come to heel on the bill were defeated, while one who had "come across" Representative Mike Stack of Philadelphia, was renominated over the opposition of the local Democratic organization.
The lesson was not lost on the other boys who face doubtful election prospects. The day after the primary, so many of them rushed up to sign the discharge petition that the bill was forced out of committee, where it had been languishing for several years.

EMBARRASS ROOSEVELT

On the Republican side, two influences are at work—fear of Coughlin and desire to embarrass the administration. Except for the handful of Progressives sincerely opposed to the scheme, all the other Republicans secretly are against it. But they know that a favorable vote will put the President in a hole.

He has made no secret that he will veto the bill, even though it means flaunting the Detroit radio priest. And nothing would give greater joy to the Republicans.
Note: Roosevelt is in a much stronger position in the senate on the Frazier-Lemke issue. Most of the Democratic senators up for re-election this year are from the south, where Coughlin has little power.

LADIES OF CONGRESS

In the new congressional directory, only two of the eight women of Congress list their dates of birth.

They are Mrs. Greenway of Arizona, 51 years old, and Mrs.
Rogers of Massachusetts, who is 56. Both, incidentally, look much younger.

The others—Mrs. Caraway of Arkansas, Mrs. Long of Louisiana,
Mrs. Kahn of California, Mrs.
Jenckes of Indiana, Mrs. Norton of New Jersey and Mrs. O'Day of New York—prefer to remain undated.

TWO-GUN MEN

Jimmy Allred is the 8-year-old son of Gov. James V. Allred of Texas. Leonard Pack, 6 feet 4, 220 pounds, is captain of the Texas Rangers.

Jimmy and Pack came to Washington as a special delegation to invite the President to attend the Dallas fair of the Texas centennial celebration.

Attired in full cowboy regalia
—wide sombreros, flaring chaps, boots, spurs and each with two guns on their hips—they appeared at the White House. Jimmy's armament consisted of small .22 caliber revolvers. Pack's guns were huge, pearl-handled six-shooters.

executive offices ahead of his towering companion. The secret

Landon

Two Viewpoints of the Kansas
Governor By Two Nationally Known Columnists, Heywood
Brown and Raymond Clapper.

By HEYWOOD BROWN

Sooner or later the voters will want to know whether Alf M. Landon is cagey or just caged. The evidence seems to show that the Kansas Coolidge is a captive canary.

Arthur Krock in the New York Times tells of a slight misunderstanding which arose in regard to the California primaries. Ed Shattuck, at that time president of the California assembly, urged Landon to allow his name to be entered in the primaries. After much talk and trouble the California emissary got the governor on the wire and was informed that he could not "fly in the face of persons who had expressed friendliness for him."

These were not persons unknown
since Landon's fortunes in California are being handled by the newly formed Hearst-Merriam coalition. Shattuck made doleful rejoinder that "he was flying in our faces and that it was purely a question of whose face he was going to fly into."

But that was where Ed Shattuck made his little mistake. Alf
M. Landon will fly in the face of no one because Alf M. Landon can't fly unless Mr. Hearst chooses to open the door of the cage.

NOT KANSAS COOLIDGE

It is true that Alf has done some feeble and furtive fluttering against the bars, but this has all been off
the record. It is less than accurate to call Landon the Kansas Coolidge. Cal had only one official spokesman, while Alf has none and offers instead an army of interpreters.

But it was a man actually and beyond question close to the Republican aspirant who talked freely and off the record about the relationship between the publisher
and the politician. "Of course, Landon is embarrassed by Hearst's support," he said. "It worries him
a lot, but what can anybody expect him to do? Certainly he can't order anybody not to support him. His first job is to get nominated and his second job is to be elected. Until that work is done
he isn't going to throw votes away."

It sounds to me like a dangerous doctrine. To my mind Mr. Hearst does not figure in the campaign as a personality. He just happens to be the major issue. In all fairness to the publisher he is the only man in the Republican party who has been utterly frank in his anti-labor attitude and for that matter in this entire conservative platform.

NOT THE MAN

We have, then, a candidate too
timid to take a stand on a major issue because he fears that if he expressed himself he might lose the opportunity to gain a very doubtful honor. Does that argue that he will be forthright once the Cleveland convention has given the accolade of its approval? And, indulging in fantasy, does Landon up to date seem to be the kind of fighter who would approach national problems without political tremors if he were in the White House? It may be true he has expressed to friends a lack of enthusiasm for Mr. Hearst, but, after all, he is in the position of a man clinging to a parachute and saying, "I could get along a good deal

Tomorrow the Hamburgers will play Santa Ana at Hawley's park.
A. R. Mott has been engaged to captain the Santa Ana team and will put our boys through a course of training. The Tally-ho will leave Cherry Blossom at 1:30 and 2:15
for the ball park.

Irene Grisl invited the following friends to help her enjoy her birthday celebration yesterday:
Eulalia, Helen and Lorraine Bainbridge, Dorothy Utt, Blanche Smith, Mildred and Wilhelmina
Bennett. Outdoor games and a fine lunch were enjoyed.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Tustin Literature section of the Ebell was held Tuesday with Mrs.
E. M. Nealley. Among the good things was a book review and "A Certain Man," was read by Mrs.
J. H. Martin.

The departure of 25 of the leading citizens of Newport Beach for San Pedro this afternoon of course means a good time, for there is to be a barbecue, clam bake and a ball given by the South Coast Yacht club, but in reality, it means a great deal more for this departure will be the means of bringing a private yacht, navy, score of yachts, to Newport Bay.

faster without this umbrella."

'REGULAR GUY'

One of the latest Landon interpreters is Brock Penerton, the theatrical manager, who is heading a "Kansas" committee. Mr.
Penerton is quoted as saying: "I knew him pretty well in college.
He's just a regular guy, an ordinary citizen with his feet on the ground. He's a successful business man and has a good sense of humor."

Any man who wants to cut down relief while millions are out of work will need a sense of humor or something.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER

TOPEKA, Kans.—The big league
political education of Governor
Landon began about last October.
That was about the time he first began to receive serious consideration as a possible Republican presidential nominee. For six or seven months, his strength has steadily increased until he is the foremost contender. What has happened to Landon himself during this period?

I talked with him last October and again this week. The difference between Landon then and now is immediately apparent.
There has been obvious growth and development. The difference is a good deal like that which exists between the freshman by the time he reaches his senior year.
Stage fright has been replaced by confidence. Knowledge has been absorbed rapidly. His horizon has expanded. The country boy is not thinking back on his small town high school days but is looking out toward the world into which he expects shortly to be thrown and he is soberly trying to get his bearings. That is the kind of growth that has taken place in Landon.

He has absorbed from visitors.
Any morning in his office you will see a cross-section of America, an eastern banker, a party of California tourists, somebody like former Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, a visiting editor.
One of Landon's days this week went something like this. During morning office hours he saw an eastern business man; held a conference with the relative leaders over the constitutional amendment which will be required to enact social security legislation; saw the Topeka newspaper correspondents; shook hands and chatted briefly with perhaps 20 casual visitors; climbed into his roadster with a friend and at 11 a. m. set out for Clay Center, Kans., to attend the funeral of a college classmate.

He stopped at Manhattan, Kans., for lunch, saw several political friends in the hotel and gathered them around his table. Telephoned one or two others who promptly dropped in and talked state affairs.
Arrived at Clay Center, he stopped at one newspaper office, visited with the editor, telephoned the other editor who came by and accompanied him to the funeral, called on the widow, and drove back to Topeka, arriving at the end of a 250-mile trip by 7 p. m.

He had a friend in at dinner, insisted a statement commenting on the Massachusetts primary, and after an hour or so on the porch
discussing social insurance, reciprocal tariffs, money, re-employment, walked downtown with his dinner visitor and on to his office
for an evening's work.

It will be interesting for orange growers to know that a drive is being made to equal the all-time record established last May when 564,000 boxes of fruit was exported
to the United Kingdom-Europe
group. Between May 12 and 23
the industry expects to move approximately 300,000 boxes to the European markets. With an estimated shortage of 12,000,000 boxes of oranges in California, and the heavy export trade from prices are expected to prevail throughout the season.

Met a boy who wants to carry papers. He also wants a bicycle.
That's why he wants to carry papers. Maybe you were a boy who once had the same ambition.

It used to be that the exclusive played golf. Now for a dollar or two you can play golf all day at the Bethpage State Park, on Long Island. And that's getting into the high-spots of golf. Fact is there isn't much that remains exclusive in this world. We are drifting more and more into a democratic complex. Why, they even brought miniature golf to us. My friends get a lot of enjoyment out of the game, but it has always required most of my time collecting enough money to buy bacon. However, I occasionally like to welcome
the boys after the score is tabulated.

Orange rancher returning his first pool picking card to the packing house asks that they pick 1500
boxes, if they can find that many.

Charley Walker has opened up
the front of the old Temple theater
on Bush and Third streets wide enough so that I can get in without any trouble. The front has been removed, at least the greater part of it. As it now appears it is active competition for Amos 'n' Andy's fresh air taxiab, but when the remodeling is completed Santa Ana will have another fine picture house, capable of seating a thousand people. It will be a brand new theater with the same old name.

Charley Ott sends me a "Did You See" but inasmuch as I did not see it I'm incompetent to pass on the validity of the picture.
However, I can visualize. I do have a preference for an actual participation. It helps one's eyesight and imagination. A tip to the wise is sufficient.

If the driver of the automobile
in front could hear what the driver of the car following said about him, and his driving, it would take more than League of Nations sanctions to prevent a conflict.

Florida, somewhat tardy, is to have a true test of the effects this week. It is designed to increase the returns to growers. California will not complain over the action
of a sister orange growing state.
Orderly shipments will prevent flooding the market. When there is too much fruit the price is too
low. My recollection is that California has tried repeatedly to persuade Florida that a prorate is advisable. What they refused to accept from California they now appropriate voluntarily. More power to 'em.

Met a fellow who wanted to see
R. Y. Wilkins and Neale Edwards.
Said he voted for both of them.
Now that Hearst and Chandler's presidential primary is over maybe the California Republicans can get together again—and maybe they can't.

And it would be my bad luck to miss Phil Stanton when he stopped at the office while out for a short ride, to say hello to me. Phil has been through a prolonged siege of sickness. If he hadn't been a fighter he wouldn't be here now.
The fact that he is able to be about again is compensation for not getting the measure of meeting him face to face. His call makes me feel sort of guilty, as it brings some neglect on my part for not getting out to the Brookhurst
home to see him.

Bill Majors offered to take me for a ride. That fellow is from Ohio so I wouldn't go. If Bill had been from Chicago I would have gone with him—just felt like I didn't care whether I came back or not. Guess it's the spring fever.

After a conversation with a former Santa Ana, now a resident of Los Angeles, I have a better understanding of the traffic slaughter that is going on in that city and its environs. My friend related a personal instance as to the reckless disregard for human life. He said he was making an intersection crossing in a sector
outside of the downtown business district with the traffic signals in his favor. Along comes an automobile, the driver ignored the signal, and the former Santa Ana jumps to save his life. But that wasn't all. The driver's marriage to the pedestrian was: "Get out of the way, you . . ." And that another reason why I prefer to trade and live in Santa Ana.
